2. Chat, make a movie!

"Chat, Make a Movie!" is a section of MonFilmFest dedicated to the pre-production of a film co-written with A.I.. A new unit is being tested after a heated debate on artificial intelligence. The invited authors will collaborate with Artificial Intelligence in the creative process, similar to an actual brainstorming session. The first step is to write the synopsis and treatment of the film in Italian using the suggestions offered by A.I., all within Sette Giorni.

To participate, authors must provide proof of their work in one of two ways:

- a. Choosing a film with italian language subtitles, they consider it representative of their entire filmography without any genre, type, duration, or production date limits. The film should be sent to monfilmfest@immagina.net, preferably via WeTransfer or other cloud storage.; The Technical-Scientific Committee appointed by the Management will choose seven authors;
- b. Sending a subject for a short film, a maximum of two folders of 30 lines by 60 characters, in italian language to monfilmfest@immagina.net.

The registrations will close on June 12th, 2023.

The Technical-Scientific Committee appointed by the Management will choose seven authors who the author will call to participate remotely during the week of the MonFilmFest, specifically from 6:00 PM on Friday, July 7th, to midnight on July 15th. As proof of collaboration with artificial intelligence, participants must connect daily through a series of meetings via Google Meet, according to a program that will be communicated during the first appointment at 6:00 PM on Friday, July 7th. Troupes will also assign credentials to access the chat A.I. platform.

"A score will be assigned based on how much and how well the participants have collaborated to develop the pre-production of the film. Additionally, we will ask to attach screenshots of the GPT Chat along with the submission of the work to the email address monfilmfest@immagina.net. The score obtained in writing the synopsis and the treatment will be averaged with the final vote of the jury of the 21st Monfilmfest."
